

ALEXANDRIA PAYS
HONORS TO DEADLast Tribute to City Council Member, Business, and Society Man.WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.
ALEXANDRIA, VA., FEB. 26.

Alexandria's foremost citizens will assemble this afternoon to pay last respects to the memory of Louis Werner Brill, city councilman, and business man, who funeral will be held from St. Mary's Catholic Church following a short service at the family residence, 109 South Pitt street. The services will be conducted by the Rev. H. J. Cutler, pastor of the church, and interment will be in Bethel Cemetery.

The Alexandria Lodge of Elks, of which Mr. Brill was a prominent member, will attend in a body. Representatives from the Odd Fellows and Order of Moose will also be present. The pallbearers selected are: F. M. Hill and J. W. Bales, Alexandria Lodge of Elks; Fred Kaus and George H. Hinken, Odd Fellows, and Mayor F. J. Paff and George E. Nightingale.

At a joint session of the city council and board of aldermen, called by Mayor Paff last evening, Councilmen Hurrell, Snowden, Leadbeater, and Alderman Marbury delivered eulogies to the memory of their late colleague. A committee consisting of Councilman Smith and Williams and Aldermen Hallenger and Summers were instructed to draw up resolutions of respect, a copy of which was to be sent to the family. It was decided by the joint session to attend the funeral this afternoon in a body.

The matter of the proposed new tax rate will be given a thorough airing at a meeting of the finance committee of the City Council to be held in the office of the city auditor tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. A delegation from the Chamber of Commerce will be on hand, as well as private citizens interested in the controversy.

In view of the increased assessment on city property, it was understood that the tax rate would accordingly be reduced from $1.29 to $1.25 on the $100, and the finance committee so recommended. It was found, however, at the last meeting of the City Council, that prominent interests were quietly working to forestall this reduction. At this meeting tomorrow, all persons interested will be given an opportunity to state their views on the question.

The annual banquet of the Freight Agents' Association of Washington and Alexandria was held last evening at Hotel Rammel. H. E. Gentry, who is local agent for the Washington Southern Railway, presided. Extemporaneous addresses were delivered by several members.

W. H. Pettus, of Petersburg, Va., a student at Episcopal Theological Seminary, near here, and upon whom the Pettus, by the Grand Lodge F. and A. M., of Michigan, February 25, 1911."

Pinchot Heads Alumni

The following newly elected officers of the Southern Alumni Association of the Phillips Exeter Academy commenced their term of office today. Gifford Pinchot, president; Judge Oscar R. Hundley, Henry Trail, Norman James, Carroll T. Bond, Lee McClung, Clarence Wilson, vice presidents; S. M. Humrichouse, secretary and treasurer; Dr. S. B. Bond, R. R. Perry, Jr., W. H. Among the speakers were H. P. Amen, Frank W. Hackett, Herbert A. Smith, John M. Merriam, and James G. Gordon.

House Pays Tribute
To Two Dead Senators

The House met in special session today to pay tribute to the memory of the late Senator Dooliver, of Iowa, and the late Senator McNary, of Louisiana.

The House first heard eulogies upon the life and distinguished public service of Mr. Dooliver. Representative Hall, of Iowa, presided during the Dooliver eulogies and Representative Brundage of Louisiana, occupied the chair while tributes were paid to Mr. McNary. The list of those who spoke feelingly of the loss the nation has sustained in the death of Mr. Dooliver included all the members of the Iowa delegation and Mr. Norris of Nebraska, Leonard of Wisconsin, Madden of Illinois, and Martin of South Dakota.

Members of the Louisiana delegation followed in eulogies to Senator McNary, and in addition the following other Representatives were heard: Lamb of Virginia, Burgess of Texas, Collier of Michigan, Coulton of New York, Gordon of Tennessee, Olcott of New York, Madison of Illinois, Padgett of Tennessee, and Flood of Virginia.

PURE FOOD WEDDING
CAKE FOR DR. WILEYWill Be Cut at Marriage to Miss Anna Kelton, the Suffragist.

A wedding cake, "Guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drug Act," will be cut tomorrow at the home of Miss Anna Kelton, 1841 R street northwest, when she forgets woman's suffrage and equal rights long enough to become the bride of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley.

Home cooking for the Government chemist from now on; double happiness for the sponsor of Sylvia Pankhurst, most militant of suffragists, dating from noon tomorrow! That is what the nuptials will read and that is why there are lots of people all over the country today interested in the ceremony.

But neither the doctor nor his bride will gratify that curiosity. None of the details are for the public until tomorrow. The doctor says that details should come from Miss Kelton. Miss Kelton, however, is keeping mighty still, even to the extent that the telephone at the Kelton home has been temporarily disconnected.

So, as far as can be learned today, they are just going to be married quietly tomorrow at the bride's home, and a reception will follow.

Miss Kelton, who met Dr. Wiley, it is said, when he addressed a meeting of militant suffragists, is the daughter of Mrs. Josephine Kelton. Her father was General Kelton, formerly Governor of Soldiers Home. Miss Kelton has been employed in the copyright division of the Congressional Library, and is one of the officers of the Woman's Civic Federation and a member of several equal suffrage organizations.

Woman Fatally Stabbed
In Fight With a Man

Little Johnson, colored, thirty years old, of 721 Ball's alley northwest, is at the Casualty Hospital in a critical condition as the result of a fight in which she received a stab wound in her right side.

William Burke, who, the police admits, cut the woman's throat, is held at the Sixth precinct. No charge has been placed against Burke as the physicians at the hospital have little hope that the victim will live through the day.

Attempts Suicide While
Pining for Sweatheart

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 25.—Pining for the girl he left behind, B. T. Street, who has been in Uncle Sam's service just three months, fired a bullet at his heart last night as he lay alone in his tent at the St. Helena reservation. Street just missed his heart about an inch, and while the physicians have not yet extracted the bullet, they say he has a chance to recover.

Lawmakers Praise
American Bankers

The American banking system is the best in the world, members of Congress told practitioners of the system who, as members of the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Banking, held their eighth annual banquet at the Raleigh last night. The postal-savings bank system, the newest part of the great plan, had its share of praise from Senator Carter. Other members of Congress who spoke were Speaker Cannon, Representative Vreeland of New York, and Representative Dawson of Iowa.

Representative Dawson in "A Talk to the Boys," advocated Canadian reciprocity and told his colleagues they were guilty of keeping the cost of living high by opposing the treaty.

A. Bertram Claxton, Jr., president of the chapter, introduced the speakers and related the growth of the chapter to a membership of 350. John Mason Brown spoke on the relation between the lawyer and the banker, and Justice Stafford, of the District Supreme Court, spoke on "What is it all about?"

Michigan Social Club
Has Interesting Meeting

Members of the Michigan Social Club, composed of former Michigan citizens residing in Washington, regret the illness of their president, J. M. Wolcott, who was unable to attend the monthly meeting of the club at Pythian Temple last night.
